The Anti-Lottery Bill.

It Has Passed Both Houses of Congress

AND WILL SOON BECOME A LAW.

The Provisions of the Measure Which the Public Should Fully Understand. Exports During August—Proceedings of the House and Senate—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The anti-lottery bill, having now passed both houses of congress, it only awaits the signature of the president to become a law, and there is not likely to be any unnecessary delay on that account. The postal authorities are prepared to enforce it vigorously, and it is therefore important that the public should understand its provisions.

The bill gives great power to the postmaster-general and after it becomes a law it will be very dangerous for any person to meddle with lottery tickets.

It forbids the carrying in the mail or delivery, at or through any postoffice or by any mail carrier, of any letter, postal card or circular concerning any lottery, or any list of drawings of the same, or any lottery ticket or part thereof, or any check, draft, bill, money, postal note or money order for the purchase of any ticket.

It forbids carrying any newspaper, circular, pamphlet or publication of any kind containing any advertisement of any lottery or containing any list of prizes of any such lottery.

It forbids any person from depositing or causing to be deposited or knowingly sending or causing to be sent any such matter by mail.

It provides that proceedings for violation of this law may be instituted either in the district at which the mailing was done, or at that place to which it is carried by mail for delivery or at any place where it is delivered to the person addressed.

It provides for preventing the delivery of mail containing registered funds or money orders addressed to lottery companies or their agents.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 17.—The 302 delegates to the state Democratic convention nearly filled the lower floor of Allyn hall yesterday morning. State Committee Chairman Davis called the convention to order at 11:30 a. m., and called upon Congressman W. F. Wilcox to act as temporary chairman. The usual committees were appointed and the convention adjourned until 1 o'clock.

The convention reassembled at 1:10. Hon. H. W. Eaton, of Hartford, was selected as permanent chairman. On motion of C. R. Baldwin of Waterbury, an informal ballot was ordered. It resulted: Whole number 286. For Morris, 100; for Livatt, 92; James S. Seymour, of New Haven, withdrew his name and moved that the nomination of Morris be made unanimous.

The nomination of Morris was made unanimous, and the ticket was completed as follows: Lieutenant-Governor Joseph W. Alcock of Middlefield; Treasurer, Marvin H. Sanger of Canterbury; Comptroller, Nicholas Staub, of New Milford.

INHUMAN TREATMENT.

An Insane Woman Chained in a Smoke-house for Fifteen Years.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—A Franklin, Pa., dispatch to The Star says: Another case of inhuman treatment of the insane has been unearthed in Richland county, in this country. The victim is a woman named Margaret Orr, and she has been kept by her brother on a farm near Emleton station on the Allegheny Valley railroad. She is about 40 years of age, and has been confined in chains in a smoke-house for over fifteen years. Superintendent Culp, of the county poor farm, made the horrible discovery, and it was with difficulty that he could induce the brothers to allow her removal to the Warren insane asylum, where she now is.

Stories are now in circulation of another case where a crippled lunatic is said to be confined in a small room without proper care, and officers are hunting it up. It is said the state board of insanity has lately become aware of the fact that in many different sections of the state lunatics are kept confined unmercifully in order to save their keeping at a proper asylum, the number so kept in confinement being almost incredible.

Counterfeiting on Trial.

LYON, Sept. 17.—An important arrest of counterfeiters has been made at Eschwege, Prussia, and the members of the gang are now on trial. Thirty-five thousand counterfeit coins and a large quantity of forged notes and dividend warrants have been discovered. Some of the leaders of the criminals escaped arrest. The Rev. Dr. Benson, archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the whole chapter of the cathedral, conducted the ceremonies.

Why They Got Their Demands.

LODGE, Sept. 17.—It transpires that the granting of the strikers' demands at Southampton was by advice of the ship-owners' federation, who consulted their lawyer to temporize with the men pending arrangements for a general 12-hour day. The players were asked to make a tour of the west end to increase their chances of getting their men to disband. The organization refused to do so, and the men adjourned to play out the schedule in a very friendly manner.

A Somnambulist's Death.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17.—A fatal accident occurred at the American on early Tuesday morning. Mr. M. Williams, formerly of Port-madison, but now keeper of Amour & Co.'s Columbia branch, and brother of W. H. Williams, of the Amour house, walked out of the fourth-story window while asleep and was fatally injured. The distance he fell was sixty feet. He has been a somnambulist for years.

Alhambra in Flames.

A Vast Amount of Damage Already Done

AND THE FIRE IS STILL RAGING.

A Description of the Ancient Palace That Is Now Being Wiped Out of Existence. Latest from the Revolt in Italy—Explosive Collisions in Germany—Other Foreign News.

MADRID, Sept. 17.—A fire broke out at 10 o'clock last night in the palace of the Alhambra in Granada, and, despite the efforts made to extinguish it, it is still burning. The fire originated in the Alcazaba court yard and soon spread to the galleries. Great damage has been done.

The Alhambra palace was begun by Ben-Ahmar in 1238 and completed by his grandson Mohammed III about 1311. The principal decorated was Yusuf I, who rebuilt and repaired it, and even yet, in the dry climate of Spain, traces of his work have been preserved. The portions still standing are ranged round two oblong courts, one called the Court of the Fish-pond, the other the Court of the Lions. They consist of porticos, pillared halls, cool chambers, small gardens, fountains, mosaic pavements, etc.

The lightness and elegance of the columns and arches, and richness of the ornamentation are unsurpassed. The stone lace-work scattered over all the building appears to those ignorant of Arabic mere quaint and beautiful scrolls, but is really a complex arrangement of Arabic poetry and verses from the Koran. The coloring, which often is marvelously preserved, employs only three primary colors, among which the metallic blue greatly predominates, although the atmosphere has transformed much of it to green.

Entrance is by a horse-shoe arch called by the Moors the gate of the law, where the king sat to administer justice. Here, as almost everywhere else, the Moorish diaper-work is much broken—in this instance to make a niche for a wondrous image of the Virgin. In the most beautiful room in the palace, the Hall of Abencerrajes, to the beauty of color and of ornamentation is added an arcade resting on light and graceful marble arches, that run round the palace.

A great part of the ancient palace was removed to make way for the palace begun by Charles V, but never finished.

Since then it has suffered from the neglect and greed of successive governors; from the French who blew up eight of its towers and tried to destroy the whole, and from earthquakes.

Nearly all officials are strictly speaking, employees would not be best for them, best for their interests generally, to encourage organization and general federation on the part of the men subject to them.

The business session of the convention was entirely consumed in the examination of credentials and seating delegates. The meetings are held with closed doors. Last night the conductors were the guests of the Ohio Yacht club at Presque Isle.

NO MONEY FOR THE ATHLETICS.

The news from Lima is to the effect that General Officer Norton is worried over the democratic dissatisfaction here, and wants the Brice influence to bring about sweet harmony and smiles. We knew Norton would be getting his hands full and so will the great York, Ohio senator have a busy time if he has to look after all the party troubles in Ohio. The dramatic Norton may come to repentance yet.

DESIRE Ex-Governor Foster's telegram to the Carey convention, declining the nomination, he was nominated by acclamation, and there is little doubt that Mr. Foster will make the race, and he is not the man to allow himself defeated by his own inactivity. It is not possible that Marion county will give him the vote she would have rolled up for a local Republican, but Mr. Foster's popularity in the district and his ability to buck against a Cal. Brice man will doubtless show that the nomination was a wise one.

A LABOR exchange says: "If God in the beginning had given Adam a salary of $25,000 a year, and continued his life and salary until the present time, and Adam had hoarded every cent of his salary, he would be yet $160,000,000 poorer than William H. Vanderbilt. $25,000 x 6,000 is $150,000,000. Vanderbilt's wealth is $200,000,000." (Bucyrus Journal)

This is a stunning paragraph, and fails to convey any evidence of remarkable ability on the part of the author. If Adam had been given $25,000 per year and failed, with all the promising opportunities, to make any profitable investments, he ought to be a pauper. Give any intelligent and progressive man now-a-days $2,500 per year and he will have a comfortable fortune in ten years. We can grasp no special point in the intended argument of the above paragraph.

The number of hard pushed horses which drop dead upon the race track yearly seems to increase by the same rate that the records decrease.

The Washington Park Jockey club, of Chicago, will hold a great series of races during the World's Fair in 1893. The racing season will be nine months in length.

Nearly a thousand Shetland ponies are imported into the United States annually. Some of the ponies bred by a Michigan farmer for the use of children are less than forty inches in height.

In Russia every horse owner is obliged to have a certificate of ownership, which goes with the animal when it is sold. If the new owner is deceived the vendor must return the purchase money.

The shoes of Emperor William's riding horse are made in two parts, and have a rubber like composition on the lower surface to prevent slipping. Sixteen of the emperor's horses are thus equipped.

An Interesting Discovery.

According to a London paper, a discovery of considerable interest for archaeologists was made at Conflans during the cutting of a railway from Argentan to Nantes. One hundred and forty-five plaster tombs of the Merovingian epoch were found. The skeletons in them are described as being in a state of perfect preservation. One of the tombs contained two skeletons, one placed on the top of the other. An official commission of the department of the Seine et Oise has gone to Conflans to visit the cemetery and to insure the preservation of the historical curiosities it contains.

We were shown a curious encounter last evening that had grown in the garden of Mrs. Annie Barnett, Pewter-town. There were three small ones firmly grown together with a fourth one growing out and almost upright from the others. It was an oddity sure and attracted much attention.—West Chester Republican.

ONE MORE MURDER. Another Crime Added to Cincinnati Long List.

On Saturday, Sept. 13, another probable murderer adds another case to the already enormous list of crime in Hamilton County. The evidence of bloodshed has spread to an acre and Westfield is the scene of the latest crime. Jack Wilson, age William Johnson and red plasters, living in Westfield, the latter being a nephew to the former's wife. Monday evening at 5 o'clock they became involved in a quarrel about $500 which Wilson tried to collect from Lee in a saloon.

Lee denied the indebtedness and called Wilson a liar and struck him in the face. Lee backed away, followed by Wilson, and as the latter approached, Lee drew a revolver, placed it close to Wilson's body and fired three times. Two of the balls entered Wilson's lung and the other lodged in his right arm. Wilson staggered and fell mortally wounded. Lee fled after accepting an another revolver from his partner, James Armstrong, who had secured him in the affray. He was captured later and picked up, while Armstrong was also arrested as an accessory. Wilson died at 10 a.m. yesterday at the hospital.

—Henry Gillet was in Delaware today, looking up old friends.

—Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Lucas left today for Columbus, to remain a few days.

—Bert Fenton left this morning for Johnstown, Ohio, to visit for a short time.

—Engineer Hill, of Cincinnati, is in the city, and is a witness in the Goose Creek injunction case.

—Dan'l Carter, of Pittsburg, Pa., is visiting his Marion friends. Mr. Carter is the guest of T. P. Wallace.

—Two weddings occur in the city tonight, those of Rev. Bernhardi and Miss Blaich, and Frank Zuck and Miss Hocker.

—The peculiar and enervating effect of summer weather is driven off by Hood's sarsaparilla, which "makes the weak strong."

—Will Battenfeld came down from Chicago Sunday and remained here with his parents until this morning when he returned.

—Mesdames C. B. Kling, E. J. Fairfield, C. E. Burkholder and Maggie Patterson were at Columbus today, attending the State Fair.

—Mrs. Filler and Mrs. Newton McCloud, of Marysville, arrived in the city today to attend the Zuck-Hecker wedding this evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Smith have arrived from their home in Illinois, called hither by the illness of Mrs. Smith's father, H. M. Barnhart.

—Dr. Thomas reports Mr. Barnhart's condition today as much more cheerful. He passed a pretty good night and, though still in a critical condition, there are hopes of his recovery. The fever is mastered, but his heart is affected, though it is hoped that it will hold out to restore him to health.

—August Rider, a young man 24 years of age, died at the home of his mother, in Richland township, Tuesday evening, of typhoid fever. Deceased was unmarried and the son of Adam Rider. The funeral will take place Thursday at 10 o'clock, and services will be held at the Firstenberg Reformed church, about ten miles southeast of this city.

—An effort is being made to organize a gymnasium, and Frank Robison now has a subscription paper in circulation for that purpose. About sixty names have already been secured, and there is hope that the thing will be a go. Such an institution would be of untold benefit to the young men of the town, which could not be related in brief space. It should be encouraged.

—Circuit court was convened this morning by Presiding Judge Seney, with Judges Beer and Moore as associates. The docket was called and adjournment made to give attorneys time to prepare their cases. The Goose Creek case was commenced at 2 o'clock. It could not be stayed off by the attorneys, and there is some hope that it will be disposed of finally.

—The ladies of the M. E. church have rented the dining hall and lunch stand at the fair grounds and will serve meals in quantity and quality equal to the finest during the coming fair. The principal committees have been chosen wisely and the management will be excellent. The proceeds over and above expenses are to increase the fund for the new church. We bespeak for them liberal patronage and promise the most satisfactory service. * * *

—George McCurdy returned from Mt. Gilead this afternoon, where he was called by the death of his mother, Mrs. Mary McCurdy, which occurred Sunday night. The lady was 81 years of age at the time of her death. The funeral took place Tuesday at Mt. Gilead and the remains were placed in the vault at that place. Mrs. McCurdy was the mother of seven children, four of whom survive her. She died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hattie Miller.

—Len Harshberger was arrested Monday night, on a warrant sworn out by his father, J. R. Harshberger, for creating a disturbance at his home on west South street. This is not the first time the offender has been arrested, having at previous times been locked up on similar charges. He was discharged Friday afternoon on a promise to reform, and left for the country to begin the reformation by going to work. The circumstances are unfortunate, and it is hoped that Len's good intentions will be fulfilled by future actions.

—Wyandot Union: The live stock traffic to the east through Upper Sandusky over the Pennsylvania line is very heavy at present, and in fact has been so for the past two weeks, due to the high price of corn. Whenever corn is cheap the farmers of the West hold their cattle and hogs for a raise in price, and fatten them, but when corn is high, as it is now, they seek to get rid of the cattle and hogs. It is roughly estimated that over a hundred carloads of live stock a day pass through Upper Sandusky en route to Pittsburg and the eastern markets.

—An Arm Broken.

—Edward Kramer, an employee at the steam shovel works, had the misfortune to get his arm caught in the belt of a drill press, at which he was working this morning, and was thrown clear around the machine. He was picked up and taken to Dr. Sweeny's office, where it was found, upon investigation, that his arm had been broken below the elbow, breaking both the bones. The broken bones were set and he was taken to his home. The fracture is considered a very bad one, but it is hoped that his arm may heal with out any further trouble.

IT IS FOSTER.

THE CAREY CONVENTION NOMINATES
H. M. BY ACCLAMATION

The Republicans of the Eighth District fulfill expectations. The name of Prestley E. Hayes, of Hancock, Presented Proceedings of the Convention Foster Sends Telegram Declining.

Special to DAILY STAR.

CAREY, O., Sept. 17.—3:11 p. m.—The Republican hosts of the Eleventh District began arriving here at an early hour this morning, to place in nomination a candidate to run against the Wyandot Hare.

The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock this forenoon, by Chairman Rambo, and the temporary organization announced as follows: Gen. J. W. Robinson, of Union, chairman, and George Crawford, of Marion, secretary. The committees were then announced, after which the convention adjourned until 1:30.

At 1:30 the convention re-convened and reported the permanent organization: Chairman, W. J. Tishell, of Hancock; vice chairman, J. J. Hane, of Marion; secretary, George McPeek, of Union. The committee on credentials reported no contests.

Resolutions were reported and adopted endorsing the state and national platforms and condemning the recent jerryrander by the Ohio legislature; also favoring reciprocity and the silver bill and favoring pension legislation, together with a free and general endorsement of Harrison's administration. A special resolution was passed deploring the recent death of Judge Noyes.

The committee on rules presented a report recommending that one formal ballot be taken. Squire Jones of Seneca, read a telegram from Governor Foster, declining the nomination, which had no apparent effect on the delegates who had come here with the expectation of placing him in nomination.

When the call for candidates was made, Judge Burkett, of Hancock county, presented the name of Prestley E. Hayes, of Findlay, Seneca passed, Marion declared its intention to vote for Foster, while Union exhibited a like sentiment.

After the formal ballot was taken, Foster was nominated by acclamation and an adjournment followed.

In the Eleventh District.
Special to the STAR.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 17.—The Democratic Congressional Convention of the Eleventh District, which was convened in this city Tuesday, and failed to reach a nomination after 237 ballots, was re-convened at 8 o'clock this morning, resulting in the nomination of State Senator John M. Pattison, of Clermont county. Mr. Pattison showed the greatest strength all through Tuesday's contest, and his success was the natural result of the lead he took at the beginning of the balloting.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Small Boy Falls From a Baggage Wagon
Beneath a Heavy Trunk.

A small boy named Breen, about 13 of age, whose mother keeps a boarding house in West Marion, met with an accident today noon, which narrowly escaped resulting fatally. The boy was attempting to climb upon the rear end of a baggage wagon loaded with three heavy sample trunks, just as the wagon was passing over a crossing at the corner of Center and West streets. By the jar of the wagon one of the trunks was thrown off and fell upon the boy, crushing him to the ground.

Young Breen was picked up and carried to Dr. Sweeny's office, but afterwards removed to the office of Dr. Weeks, where his injuries were attended, consisting of two severe scalp wounds, one on the base of the skull and another on the forehead, together with a slight concussion and some bruises about the body.

Funeral of John Preston Wise.

(Bucyrus Telegraph)

The funeral of John Preston Wise occurred at 2 p. m. on Sunday, and had a larger attendance than ever before was seen at a funeral in Bucyrus. Those present could be safely estimated from 2,000 to 3,000. A great many availed themselves of the opportunity to look for the last time upon the face of their departed friend, and although passing rapidly through the hall, it required 45 minutes for the column to file through.

At the cemetery also were hundreds of persons who had not mingled with those at the house. Personal friends were present from all over the country, and still others from outside of the county. There was a great wealth of fine floral tributes, all wrought in the most beautiful designs. The societies attending in bodies were the Royal Home, wearing their badge, and as an emblem a sprig of evergreen, the Knights of Pythias, wearing an ivy wreath, and the Golden Rod Club, wearing a spray of that rich golden flower.

The services were conducted by Rev. G. M. Grau, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, of which the deceased was a member, assisted by Rev. J. B. Schaff, pastor of the Baptist church. The number able to gain admission to these services was necessarily limited to a comparative few, but the expressions of sorrow and sympathy by the great numbers on the outside were both general and sincere. At 4 p. m. the remains were tenderly borne to Oakwood cemetery and temporarily deposited in the receiving vault.

—Miss Lura Canfield returned to her home in Woodstock, Ohio, today, after a month's visit with Miss Florence Dix.

—T. P. Watkins attended the State Fair today.
